

Why choose wood?

01 Timeless appeal

Wood surfaces have a classic and timeless look that complements various interior styles. They add warmth and character to a space, creating a welcoming atmosphere.

02 Durability and longevity

High-quality timber surfaces are durable and can withstand heavy use, making them suitable for both residential and commercial spaces. With proper care, wood can last for decades.

03 Ease of maintenance

Wood is relatively easy to clean and maintain. Regular dusting, sweeping and occasional mopping are usually sufficient to keep them in good condition. They are also less prone to trapping allergens compared to fabrics or carpet.

04 Increased property value

Properties with wood surfaces often have a higher resale value. Potential buyers are often attracted to the timeless beauty and durability of hardwood, making it a good investment for the long term.

05 Versatility in design

Wood comes in a variety of species, colours, and finishes, allowing for a wide range of design options. Whether you prefer a rustic look or a more modern aesthetic, there's a wood surface option to suit your style.

06 Environmentally friendly

Sustainable harvesting practices and certifications, such as Forest Stewardship Council (FSC) certification, make wood an eco-friendly choice. Additionally, wood is a renewable resource.

07 Improved indoor air quality

Unlike fabrics or carpet that can trap allergens, timber contributes to better indoor air quality. Timber doesn't harbour dust mites, pet hair, or other allergens that can be problematic for individuals with allergies.

08 Adaptability to climate conditions

Hardwood floors can adapt to changes in temperature and humidity. Engineered wood flooring is designed to resist expansion and contraction, making it suitable for areas with varying climate conditions and is also suitable for use with underfloor heating.

09 Enhanced resale potential

Properties with hardwood floors are often more attractive to potential buyers, potentially reducing the time a property spends on the market. This can be advantageous when considering resale.

10 Warmth and comfort

Wood provides a natural thermal insulator, making it warmer than some other surface materials, especially tile or stone. This can contribute to a more comfortable living environment, especially in colder climates.
